VDOintel: Securing Large Gated Communities

Cutting-Edge Solutions for Enhanced Surveillance and Resident Safety Across 200+ Households

Challenge: A large gated community, home to over 200 households, experienced rising security concerns. Issues like unauthorized access, disruptive behavior, theft, and vandalism were becoming increasingly frequent. Traditional security measures, relying on on-site guards and basic CCTV, proved insufficient and costly. The community needed a solution for faster incident response and proactive security.

Solution: The community implemented VDOintel's advanced video analytics system, integrating it with their existing CCTV.

Key features included:

- Perimeter and trespass detection
- Monitoring for unauthorized use of common areas
- Behavioral anomaly detection
- Customized activity zone monitoring
- Smart alerts with video verification

Results:

- Reported security incidents decreased significantly, including unauthorized access and behavioral disturbances.
- Security teams responded to incidents much faster, minimizing potential damage.
- The presence of the advanced system deterred criminal activity and unauthorized behavior.
- Residents reported feeling safer, particularly with the improved monitoring of common areas. Theft rates declined.
- Disruptive behavior within the community was notably reduced.

ROI:

- The community achieved substantial cost savings compared to traditional security methods, with a more effective security posture.
- Staffing needs were reduced, with only one on-site guard required, supported by VDOintel's proactive surveillance.
- Property values increased due to the enhanced security.
- The community transitioned from a reactive to a proactive security approach, preventing incidents before they escalated.
